Capacity under 1000 (Fusion Factory capacity is under 400)

Requested budget of under $4000

Shelsea proposed an event name that doesn't offend vegetarians/vegans (as opposed to BaCONox)
This is the name of the annual event, not the theme of the event, similar to Decompression

UniFire - 9 votes

Bernal Equinox

A suggestion was made to use both names together, but was not elected as a vote option

Vote for name of event:

First round (people may vote for as many options as they want):

Colorado Bernal Equinox - 14 votes

Recyclops - 3 votes

BaCONox - 12 votes

Second round (people may only vote for one option, either Colorado Bernal Equinox or BaCONox)

Colorado Bernal Equinox - 15 votes (winner)

Floor opened for anyone having objections to this being an official Burning Man regional event

19 votes in favor of being BM-sanctioned event

Regional reps will vote before next meeting to see if funds can come from Denver Regional Fund

Any profits must go back to that fund before being allocated to any causes

If there is a profit, Steve suggests giving back 40% to regional fund, 30% to charity, 30% to community

If a profit is not made it is considered a loss to the fund and no money is owed (and will not affect other events, such as Decompression)

Discussion opened as to whether proposed $4000 is adequate for this event

Discussion tabled until proposed budget comes in from Sante

Permit requests will be submitted 11/13 (thus event name needed be chosen ASAP)

Theme will be chosen later

Lead Roles:

Guy volunteered to be ticketing lead

Andres volunteered to be communications lead

Next meeting will see lots of voting - Tuesday prior to Thanksgiving, 7:00 p.m. at Fusion Factory
